DETAILED ACTION

1. The replies filed April 7, 2004, and May 13, 2004, have been received and entered.
Claims 22-28 are pending.

Response to Amendment

2. Applicant's amendments to the specification in the replies filed April 7, 2004, and May 13, 2004, appropriately address all objections to the specification as detailed in the Office action mailed February 19, 2004. Accordingly, these objections are withdrawn in view of Applicant's amendments.
3. Applicant's amendments to the claims in the reply filed April 7, 2004, appropriately address the rejection of claims 22-28 under 35 U.S.C. §112, second paragraph, based on indefiniteness as detailed in the Office action mailed February 19, 2004. Accordingly, this rejection is withdrawn in view of Applicant's amendments.
4. Applicant's amendments to the claims in the reply filed April 7, 2004, appropriately address the rejection of claims 22-28 under 35 U.S.C. §101 based on nonstatutory subject matter as detailed in the Office action mailed February 19, 2004. Accordingly, this rejection is withdrawn in view of Applicant's amendments.

Allowable Subject Matter

5. All grounds of rejection for claims 22-28 have been withdrawn. Claims 22-28 are allowed.

6. The following is an Examiner's statement of reasons for allowance:

The prior art of record fails to teach or fairly suggest preferentially (by default) resolving a called method as cloned versions (within cloned objects – new objects with properties copied from the original object) and resolving the called methods to external versions in the event of a version conflict between the cloned and external versions. The recited claim limitations inherently require execution of the claimed framework and interaction with the claimed common compilation unit in order to realize the prescribed functionality. Therefore, the requisite functional interrelationship between the claimed limitations and the required computer environment (through the use of a computer readable medium) is present (and thus, the claims recite statutory subject matter as indicated above).

7. Any comments considered necessary by Applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
